4. Platform Status & Technical Notes

Why the URL Changed Three Times

The Safety Station platform is hosted on Vercel (frontend) and Render (backend), both of which are professional cloud hosting services. During earlier development updates, configuration changes inadvertently caused the URL to change.

This issue has now been permanently resolved. The current URLs are stable and will not change again under normal circumstances.

Long-Term Maintenance Considerations

1. YouTube API Key

The platform currently displays YouTube videos using an API key that I purchased specifically for this project. For long-term maintenance, I recommend purchasing your own YouTube API key through Google Cloud Console. This ensures you have full ownership and control over the integration. I will assist with this transition during the maintenance consultation.

2. Hosting Options

The current free-tier hosting is suitable for launch. For guaranteed uptime and professional reliability, you may consider:

- Adding a custom domain (~EUR 10–15/year)
- Upgrading to paid hosting tiers (~EUR 7–20/month)
- Transferring the platform to your internal IT infrastructure

3. Admin Panel

To simplify content management for your Safety Officer and team, I have developed a comprehensive admin panel over the past three weeks. This panel allows administrators to easily edit and update platform content without requiring technical knowledge.
